

Bravo partners with Giuntabell to modernise its accounting and reporting systems.

Giuntabell is proud to launch Bravo's new financial platform featuring state of the art and intuitive cloud based solutions to address current requirements and enable future growth.

Bravo Disability Support Network was formed in April 2006 in response to unmet needs and lack of support for people with disabilities. As a result of these concerns, Bravo began working with individuals and families in the Gympie region in Queensland to plan and implement alternative options for natural and funded support. Guided by the vision of a community united in their respect and value for individuals with disabilities and the families who care for them, Bravo's dedicated team now provides a comprehensive range of services and initiatives. These include NDIS Plan Management, Direct In-home and Community Services as well as Brokerage services for individual, short and long-term solutions.

Demand for Bravo's services has increased exponentially in recent years largely as a result of the NDIS. Bravo's team has also increased dramatically in order to cope with growing demands and business requirements. Whilst MYOB Account Right had proved to be an adequate platform in the early years, it was not able to cope with recent business growth, becoming slow and cumbersome in accounts processing and reporting. The organisation needed a solution that could appropriately and efficiently process data quickly, handle large volumes of transactions, interpret the data and report as required to all internal and external stakeholders.

"Our decision to engage Giuntabell was primarily based on their specialisation in the Not-for-Profit sector" said Nathan Mackey, Finance Manager at Bravo. "We were confident as Giuntabell have helped many businesses like ours in similar situations and could offer the expert support that others could not". Working closely with Bravo's financial and management teams, Giuntabell were able to build a thorough understanding of the business so as to identify areas of concern and recommend the best solutions for current and future requirements. Sage Intacct, along with CanPay, were selected based on their ease of use, cloud based automation as well as their ability to support future business growth.

"On behalf of the management and Board of Bravo, we would like to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to Giuntabell for helping to address the system gaps and also to provide a solid platform for Bravo's further growth. We are confident that Bravo now has a system that will grow together with the company and provide a much *greater level of reporting and transparency than previously was available or possible.

Thank you to Nunzio and all the team!"*
